COLLETT

EXPERTS IN MOTION

First in our Sector for ISO 45001

After our successful audit we're proud to announce that Collett & Sons Ltd have been awarded ISO 45001:2018 for our management systems.

With the migration of OHSAS 18001:2015 to the new ISO 45001 standard Collett have become the first in our sector to be awarded with this accreditation.

ISO 45001:2018 is based on the ISO High Level Structure (HLS) for management standards and recognises:

- Increased organizational resilience through proactive risk prevention, innovation and continual improvement.
- Strengthening of legal and regulatory compliance whilst reducing business losses.
- Demonstrates brand responsibility by committing to safe, healthy and sustainable work.
- One global occupational health and safety system for the entire business.

With ISO 45001, the role of health and safety will not become the sole responsibility of the Health and Safety Manager. The standard expects OH&S aspects to be integrated into the structure of an organisation, ensuring buy-in from top management and greater employee contribution.

We're extremely proud to be the first within our sector to achieve this accreditation which showcases our dedication to our health & safety performance.
